The Nation.

Sept. 27, 1900

There were no new deaths in the city on Friday. The number of deaths for the week ended September 20th, was 71, compared with 75 in the same week of last year. The death rate for the week was 16.1 per 100,000 population, as compared with 16.5 for the corresponding week of last year. The death rate for the year to date is 17.1, as compared with 17.5 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of smallpox reported in the city on Friday was 4, making the total for the week 27, as compared with 30 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of smallpox for the year to date is 146, as compared with 157 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of diphtheria reported in the city on Friday was 3, making the total for the week 15, as compared with 12 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of diphtheria for the year to date is 76, as compared with 80 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of scarlet fever reported in the city on Friday was 1, making the total for the week 6, as compared with 8 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of scarlet fever for the year to date is 32, as compared with 36 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of measles reported in the city on Friday was 1, making the total for the week 7, as compared with 10 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of measles for the year to date is 48, as compared with 52 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of whooping cough reported in the city on Friday was 1, making the total for the week 4, as compared with 5 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of whooping cough for the year to date is 24, as compared with 25 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of mumps reported in the city on Friday was 1, making the total for the week 4, as compared with 3 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of mumps for the year to date is 15, as compared with 18 for the corresponding period of last year.

The number of new cases of measles reported in the city on Friday was 1, making the total for the week 7, as compared with 10 in the same week of last year. The number of new cases of measles for the year to date is 48, as compared with 52 for the corresponding period of last year.